

Making A Difference

Who we are ... We are a group of students at Assumption High School trying to make a difference in the lives of Cambodian girls. We are affiliated with American Assistance For Cambodia, a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. Visit www.cambodiaschools.com to learn more about this organization.

Why we are doing this... We are blessed to live in a country where education is available to everyone. In Cambodia, that is not the case. Especially for girls. Many girls are forced into brothels to become prostitutes for the rest of their lives. Some are tricked or kidnapped by sex traffickers, but others go willingly thinking that they can make a living by being a prostitute. Many of them contract STDs such as AIDS. With proper education, we believe, as do other international organizations concerned with Cambodia, that these girls would be less likely to end up in brothels.

How we can help... Over the past three years, we have raised over $19,000 to build a school. It was completed in the spring of last year, and now educates about 300 students. We have provided an English teacher for one year, and a computer. However, that year is almost complete and we will need to raise $6,000 for the English teacher's salary next year. We hope to continue to sponsor this school each year and possibly build more schools as our group grows.
